

Appointment with a psychologist's (for oncology patients)

This is a service in which a psychologist with special training provides advise to oncology patients at the oncology centre.

A referral from a family physician or specialist physician is necessary for the appointment.