

Diabetes screening test (glucose)

Glucose (Gluc) or blood sugar is the body's primary source of energy – 40–60% of the necessary energy comes from glucose and it's level in blood is kept within tight limits.

Glucose measurement is used to diagnose or monitor the treatment of diabetes mellitus. It's recommended to fast for 8 hours before the test.