

Facial and jaw muscle massage

This method is suitable for supporting the treatment of developmental disturbance of teeth. The massage stimulates blood circulation and relaxes the muscles, teaches you how to sense your muscles and relieves strain in the shoulder girdle. The procedure is suitable for patients with spastic dysphonia. It is recommended as a once-a-week session for 2–3 weeks.

Duration: up to 60 minutes

The service is paid.