

Youth clinic

The youth clinic is for young people who have questions or complaints about their body and sexuality.

The service is free for all young people who are up to 26 years old (including 26 years old). The consultation is free also if you do not have a health insurance policy.