

Removal of (1-5 pcs) benign neoplasms 1-2mm using a diathermocoagulator*

Removal of benign skin formations using diathermocoagulation (an electrosurgical treatment method utilising alternating current for the removal of various skin lesions).

This method provides a great cosmetic result and closing the wounds with sutures is not required.